

Gradient Fields

In this activity, blah blah blah

One common way that vector fields arise is through the gradient of a function. That is, suppose we have a function $f : \mathbb{R}^n \rightarrow \mathbb{R}$. Then we can find the gradient of f , $$\nabla f(x_1, \dots, x_n) = \left(\frac{\partial f}{\partial x_1} \right.$$